1. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 13, "said quick disconnect system" lacks antecedent basis. It is noted that dependent claims must depend upon a previous claim and not a following claim.

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "quick disconnect system", "spring biased teeth", and "spring biased pin" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 2, 7, 11, and 12-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Parsons (1,417,683) in view of O (5,154,104).

Parsons discloses all of the claimed subject matter except for having a base with an arm for engagement with a rotary tool and a ball lock or spring biased teeth or a spring biased pin. O discloses a base with an arm for engagement with a rotary tool. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to form the second connector of Parsons as a base with an arm to enable engagement with a rotary tool as taught by O. The examiner takes Official Notice that the use of a ball lock or spring biased teeth or a spring biased pin as a locking mechanism is notoriously old and well known in the art. Consequently, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to form the locking mechanism of Parsons as a ball lock or spring biased teeth or a spring biased pin as such are known mechanical equivalents.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

6. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Debra S. Meislin at telephone number 703-308-3671.
